

IDEAS WITHOUT BORDERS: GROWING MINDS IN A SHARED ACADEMIC SPACE

*Vega Hesmatantya,
Doctoral School of Education, University of Szeged*

11 June 2025

Short Biography

- Stipendium Hungaricum holder 2024
- First year PhD student, Doctoral School of Education, University of Szeged.
- Faculty member and lecturer in the English Education Study Program at Universitas Muhammadiyah Surabaya, Indonesia

Vega Hesmatantya

Vega Hesmatantya

vega.hesmatantya@edu.u-szeged.hu vega.hesmatantya@um-surabaya.ac.id

Outline

What I'll Share About

- Inclusive learning communities
- Importance of multicultural academic environments.

Purpose

- Share insights from our research seminar.
- Highlight integration, collaboration, and institutional support.

Introduction

Research Seminar

- Regular sessions for research presentations.
- Hungarian & international PhD students.

Interactive Environment

- Discussions and feedback
- Peer and Professors Review

Key Experiences

What stand out

- Valuable academic feedback from peers & professors
  - Exposure to wide-ranging research topics.
  - Interdisciplinary, cross-cultural dialogue
-

Positive Impacts

Encourages critical thinking and broadens perspectives

---

---

Fostering Collaboration

---

How It Builds Community

- Safe space to share and grow.
- Respect for diverse academic traditions.

Personal Highlights

- Gained new insights into my own research.
- Received meaningful peer feedback.
- Developed friendships across cultures.

Supportive Policies and Practices

- Intercultural Sensitivity Trainings at the start of the spring semester (The International Office of Faculty)
- Events that blend social and academic life such as volunteering activities (DSE).

Reflections

- Impact on personal and academic confidence.
- Personal gratitude for being part of this supportive environment.
- Encouragement to continue fostering inclusive practices.

Institutional Support

Gallery

Research Seminar Class

Research Night at DSE

Intercultural Sensitivity Training

Conclusion

In a space where ideas are free, minds can grow together

Köszönöm szépen

Thank you

